

Bite Sized Learning

Confidence in meeting people with sight loss

Overview

A very interactive and entertaining insight into the world of blindness by Graham Helm, who lost his sight in his 30's. Graham uses his own life experiences to inform and inspire you to improve your confidence and skills with anyone you meet with sight loss. The session includes practical information on guiding, use of technology and also description techniques.

Who should come on the course?

All employees at all levels of the organisation. Tenants, volunteers and students.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of this session you will:

- Understand more about daily life and everyday tasks for someone who is blind.
- Be able to confidently approach someone and offer to guide them.
- Understand how blind people access technology e.g. TV, Internet and PC's etc
- Feel more relaxed and confident about talking to, describing the environment or asking a blind or partially sighted person what they need.
